FAVORS CONTINUATION OF PRESENT EFFICIENT CITY ADMINISTRATION

The many personal endorsements of the position taken by the Record in the coming election of City Councilmen are most gratifying. After a careful study of the history of the affairs of our city and the records of the several candidates the Record endorsed the three Councilmen who are candidates to succeed themselves —A. J. Dalton, H. H. Smith and Julius Twesten.

It was our conviction that men who had shown their efficiency in public office should be retained, if they were willing to continue in the service of the public.

In the second place, we felt that the efficiency of these Councilmen was not due to any chance of circumstances. Each one is a successful business man whose property interests and personal investments are in this community. It is, therefore, to the interest of each one of them that the most busiiness-like administration be given to the city's affairs. Building up the city means to them a better opportunity to build up their own business.

And this seems to be the way the people of Daly City look at the situation, too. Here is what one of the prominent citizens of the city writes:

"Editor Record: I am particularly pleased with the stand that you are taking in the campaign for the election of City Councilmen. The three incumbents who are candidates to succeed themselves are first-class business men of the highest integrity. They know the needs of our city by past experience, and they have managed our affairs in a most satisfactory manner. If we had such men in our own private business, we would not think of changing them, but rather would offer them inducements to remain with us. The condition of our city affairs is a credit to the Council and to the whole community. I need mention only one of the departments as an illustration. No other community in California can boast of a more highly efficient water department, owned and operated by the people. We have the purest of water, in ample supply, and at a moderate cost. I shall do all in my power to continue the present efficient city administration by helping re-elect the incumbent City Councilmen —Dalton, Smith and Twesten."

Another of our subscribers believes that the present condition of harmony in our City Council is reflected in our other civic organizations, including the schools. This he believes is worth maintaining, so that Daly City shall continue to have the reputation of being a community where the citizens are boosters, not knockers, and everyone is working for the welfare of all. Here is what he says:

"Mr. Editor: I congratulate you on the position you are taking in the present city election campaign. What Daly City needs is a continuation of the present harmonious relations not only between the different civic bodies but also among the members of the several organizations. The City Council is spending its time and energy in attending to the affairs of the city in a business-like manner. There is no petty squabbling. The result is that we are known favorably throughout the whole state for our co-operation in the interests of our community. The same spirit of co-operation and efficiency is seen in the management of our schools. We have just gone through a school election in which we elected the incumbent trustees, both high school and grammar school, without opposition. The result of such a policy is that a spirit of harmony exists in our schools which makes better work possible on the part of both teachers and scholars. This makes Daly City a desirable place to bring up children, and is the cause of many families moving into our community. Let us continue the policy of boosting, not knocking. It is better for Daly City and everybody in it. I'm for Dalton, Smith, and Twesten."

Others point out the fact that Daly City, is a highly desirable place to live in because of its progressive spirit. This has brought to our community live business men who see the possibilities of a fast growing community. The stores are run on the same high business principles as those of San Francisco. Prices here are as low as any down twon, and the quality of the merchandise is equally high. No need for a citizen of Daly City to go elsewhere to trade.

The fast growth of our community foretells what is to happen in the near future. Nothing can stand in the way of our city's growth except the people themselves through bad government.

The traffic in and through Daly City has become so great that our main streets are not wide enough to handle it. For this reason improvements must be made, further developments must be carried on. We are at the front door of a great city—more, we are a part geographically, though not politically, of the greatest city on the Pacific Coast, and one whose future is second to none in the United States.

For these reasons we should make no foolish experiments at this time in the election of public officials. The men who are in charge of our city affairs have proved themselves sane, safe, and progressive business men. Dalton, Smith and Twesten are a credit to Daly City as public officials. Men like them in public office means a better and bigger city, with more homes, more schools, more business, more contentment, more happiness. Let's keep them in office.

ATTORNEY LIKES OUR CITY GOVERNMENT

The following letter has been received by the publisher of the Record from City Attorney J. E. McCurdy:

Mr. R. A. Canine, Editor and Publisher of the Daly City Record, Daly City California.

Dear Mr. Canine:

I would like to commend you on the stand that you have taken in the coming Daly City municipal election in endorsing the return to office of Councilmen Dalton, Smith and Twesten.

Your newspaper, which has such a wide circulation in Daly City, has at all times taken a deep and sincere interest in the manner in which the affairs of the city have been conducted and you are therefore well qualified to know the actual conditions which exist.

As City Attorney for Daly City for practically the past ten years it has been my privilege to become intimately acquainted with the manner in which the city's affairs have been conducted, and I cannot speak in too high terms of the very splendid and unselfish, efficient service which has been rendered by the men who have conducted the city's business during that period.

My opportunity for observation of the manner in which municipal affairs are conducted in other cities of the class of Daly City in California has been exceptional, and Daly City stands at the top of the list when compared with other cities.

The city's business is Big Business, and its handling should be entrusted to business men. We have such men in Mayor Smith and Councilmen Dalton and Twesten, and it is good judgment and common sense to keep them in the positions they now occupy.

In the expenditure of the hundreds of thousands of dollars of the taxpayers' money over a period of many years, both in public improvements and for the usual city expenses, there has never been a whisper of anything improper in the expenditure of this great sum of money, or in the conduct of the city's affairs by its officials.

These business men who are serving as your Councilmen are always on the job and giving far greater attention to the conduct of the city's affairs than is ordinarily given by Councilmen. Daly City is enjoying all of the benefits of the City Manager form of government without the expense of an official occupying that particular position.

Recently an official of one of the cities of the bay district at a meeting of the mayors of the bay district cities made the remark that the low cost of running the city government in Daly City was the envy of every other city in California, and stated he obtained his information from figures on file in the office of State Controller Ray L. Riley at Sacramento.

Statements of this kind show what other cities think of Daly City, and it is another reason why all citizens of Daly City should be proud of and support their City Councilmen.

Will you please give publicity to this letter through the valuable columns of your paper. I feel confident you will continue to support those who make good in public office, and wishing you through your paper every success to Mayor Smith and Councilmen Dalton and Twesten, I beg to remain,

Yours very truly,
J. E. McCURDY.

DEATH OF MRS. LOUISA FALK

The family of Mrs. Louisa Falk are receiving the sympathy of their many friends upon the untimely death of a beloved wife and mother. Mrs. Falk had been in poor health for some time past and finally passed away, Saturday, March 29.

She leaves to mourn her loss a husband, Jacob Falk, and a daughter, Louisa M. Holland, and a son, John E. Holland.

WILL BE A POPULAR SPOT

Daly City's seven-acre Park to be made into a beauty spot, with sunken garden effect, where citizens may spend their leisure moments.

DEVELOPMENT OF DALY CITY'S PARK

At a caucus meeting of the members of the City Council last Monday evening definite plans were made for the development of the Daly City Park.

The plans as suggested by the Park committee, under the chairmanship of Councilman A. J. Bodien, are to be executed by City Engineer George Kneese and Assistant Engineer Robert Klassen. The plan is not to fill in to the street level, but rather to develop the sunken garden effect, not unlike the football bowl at Stanford.

The bids received eight years ago estimated the cost of the removal of the tree stumps and grading to be done at $27,000. Now, after a period of time has elapsed, these stumps have decayed and removal at this time will cost less than $300.

With the present high powered machinery, grading can be done for a nominal cost.

For convenience in carrying on this work and to permit trucks to haul in the dirt for filling in, a road has been built from Junipero Serra boulevard. The intention is to widen and improve this road later on.

It is the expectation of those interested in this project that this spot will become one of the most popular recreation grounds on the peninsula.

If there is need for one, there is plenty of space to develop a fine baseball field.

This seven acre tract of land was the gift of a public spirited citizen several years ago. It's access to highways, street car lines, and the Southern Pacific railway, and also its ample parking space, will make it possible to handle large crowds on any occasion.

The work done so far on the Park has been under the personal supervision of Mayor Smith.

BENEFIT WHIST FOR CROCKER P. T. A.

A benefit whist was sponsored by the Crocker P. T. A. Friday of last week and held at the home of Mrs. J. Jordan, of Bellevue avenue.

Mrs. Ivy Alexander, Mrs. Orvilla Pauw and Mrs. J. Jordan were in charge of this affair.

The affair was well attended by a large crowd of members and friends of this association.

After the game a social hour was enjoyed and zest was added to it by the serving of apple pie a la mode and coffee.

The three hostesses wish to thank all those who helped in any way to make this affair a success, the result of which was the adding of a very substantial sum to the Association's treasury.

DEDICATION OF NEW FIRE TRUCK

The formal dedication of the new fire truck recently installed by Company No. 3, Daly City Volunteer Fire Department, took place last Saturday evening at the fire house on Westlake avenue, being attended by the members of Company No. 3, City Councilmen, Fire Commissioners, Fire Chief and his two assistants, and the Fire Marshal.

As a part of the evening's program a splendid dinner was served and all who participated enjoyed it very much. Paul Selmi, of Company No. 3, was toastmaster for the evening.

Some of the members of Company No. 3 who are still in active service were members of the original volunteer fire department of over twenty years ago.

There was much discussion on the advancement of Daly City and the fire department during these years.

Mayor H. H. Smith was called upon and spoke at some length upon the growth and advancement of Daly City and also of the value of co-operation, which he claimed is enjoyed more in all branches of Daly City government than in any other city government in the entire country.

The other City Councilmen spoke along similar lines, thanking Company No. 3's members for the splendid cooperatiion they have given over a period of years, and particular mention was made of the patience shown by Company No. 3 in waiting all these years for a motor driven fire apparatus.

The members of the board of Fire Commissioners and the Chiefs and Assistant Chiefs, among other suggestions and comments called particular attention to the added responsibilities and expectations of that company and its members.

Fire Marshal Rickmann spoke on the importance of fire prevention, and also expressed the hope that the new truck would never have to be used.

Members of Company No. 3 thanked the board of fire commissioners and members of the board of City Councilmen for having made it possible for them to have this new apparatus, considered one of the finest.

Mention was made of the splendid first aid truck and equipment recently installed in Station No. 1, on Santa Barbara avenue near Hillcrest Drive, and also of the interest shown by that company and a few members of the other companies in taking a course in first aid training.

Mayor Smith concluded the program by dedicating the new apparatus, dedicating it "to the most valuable, unselfish, self-sacrificing service ever given to any community—the service rendered Daly City by the Daly City Volunteer Fire Department."

BUSINESS AND CIVIC LEADERS UNITE FOR CITY'S BETTERMENT

A group of our leading business and professional men have announced their willingness to give of their time and money to promote a campaign for the greater development of Daly City. At the present time Daly City can be greatly benefitted by such a campaign.

Hundreds of towns and cities throughout the United States are awakening their citizens to the possibilities for expansion of their communities. The competition for growth, and prosperity, between towns and cities everywhere is becoming more intensified each day. This severe competition between communities is the fundamental reason why the community development movement is sweeping the entire United States. Aggressive towns and cities are determined to develop and prosper. Their aggressivness and determination insure that they will succeeed, and their success will be achieved at the expense of those communities that have not been awakened to their opportunity.

Communities can not stand still. They must progress and prosper or they will decline and decay. What will be the future of Daly City? The answer is given by this group of loyal citizens who are making this Greater Development Campaign possible.

Daly City will keep in step with progress. Daly City will grow and prosper.

Every resident of Daly City is interested in its future, and will therefore welcome the news of this community building campaign. The ultimate success of any campaign of this kind depends upon two things; first, a thorough knowledge of the fundamental factors that make for a successful community; second, the cooperation of every resident of the community.

Knowledge is power in every endeavor. Successful individuals, and successful corporations, have a superior knowledge in their line of endeavor. Successful communities are those whose citizens possess a thorough knowledge of the principles underlying community success. Fortunately this knowledge is available.

Because of their desire that Daly City shall become a better place to live in, and through their generosity as exemplified by their willingness to underwrite the cost of the entire campaign, a few of our fellow citizens will make this knowledge available to every resident of Daly City.

Once every week for the next twelve months, the Daly City Record will present an illustrated article covering some phase of community development that every citizen should be familiar with. Each week for the next fifty-two weeks some factor of community advancement will be fully discussed, pointing the way to a better and more prosperous Daly City. The Record is proud to be able to present to its readers this epoch making series. It feels that, by so doing, it is rendering another great service, not only to its readers, but to the whole community as well.

The articles that will be presented have been prepared by a corps of authorities who have spent years in the study of community problems—problems such as those facing Daly City today. Every article is founded upon actual facts secured from the analysis of thousands of communities in every part of the United States.

During the next fifty-two weeks, by means of this Community Development Program, every man, woman and child in this community will enjoy the opportunity of becoming familiar with the success building qualities essential to the greater development of Daly City. This will be the most comprehensive program ever presented in this part of the United States.

There is not a single activity in the community life of Daly City that will not be covered in this Greater Develoment Campaign. These activities and institutions of Daly City that stand for progress will be brought to the attention of all, while the weaknesses will also be pointed out so they may be strengthened. Each article will serve as a guide-post, pointing the way toward the goal of our desires—a bigger and better Daly City.

A generation ago a campaign of this nature would have been impossible. At that time, rarely was the development of communities handled on a well organized plan—more often towns and cities merely drifted, some toward prosperity while others slipped into oblivion. Today, however, community building has become a science. By scientific methods a community can be analyzed, diagnosed in a manner not unlike the physician examines and diagnoses the individual. As the doctor prescribes for the individual, in a like manner the community specialist prescribes for the betterment of the community. This development campaign brings to Daly City citizens the latest thought on community building from the best scientific minds on this subject.

The greatest good from this development program can only be secured through the heartiest co-operation and support of every man, woman and child in Daly City. This progressive movement merits their support. The necessary funds have been provided, but it must be remembered that its ultimate success demands that everyone join in the spirit of the campaign.

We are forutnate in possessing the type of citizens in Daly City that rally to the support of this community whenever called upon. Our citizens have always responded nobly to all movements for the promotion of a greater community welfare.

Because of this loyalty, the Record feels assured that the Development Campaign will be highly successful. That it will receive the heartiest cooperation of every man, woman and child in Daly City. This will result in the creation of a Greater Daly City.

The campaign is on, the opening article appears as a full page (Page 6) in this issue of the Record. Turn to this page, read every word that appears there. Stop and think of what you can do to make Daly City a better place in which to live. Join in supporting this program by lending your assistance. If you will do this, and if your neighbors will do this, then there can be only one answer regarding the outcome of the campaign —it will be crowned with success.

Remember that the Daly City Development Campaign comes to you through the courtesy of its sponsors. The following organizations and individuals, by their financial support, are making this campaign possible: The Daly City Theatre, H. H. Smith, Dr. F. P. Callsen, W. J. Sweeney, Wade H. Clay, Twesten & Mayer, A. Vireno, Sordelli & Raffo, Daly City Cleaners, Dave Campbell, McGraw's Drug Store, Henry Warshawski, Selmi Market, Peter's Restaurant, Mission Auto Court, Selmi Hardware Co.

OUR ANNUAL AUDIT

Editor Daly City Record:

It has come to my attention that a report is being circulated that there has been no audit of the financial accounts of the city for many years Can you give space in your paper to the following letter, which is self-explanatory.

Very truly yours,
HENRY SUNDERMANN.

Mr. Henry Sundermann, Chairman of Finance Committee, Daly City, California.

Dear Sir: In compliance with your request of even date regarding the annual audits of the Daly City Municipality, we have pleasure to inform you that our first audit was made for the period from April 1, 1916, to and including October 31, 1921, this particular report being rendered on the date of November 16, 1921, and since that date we have had the privilege of making a regular annual audit for the firscal years ending June 30th.

Detailed reports as to our findings have been rendered to the Board of Trustees each year in quadruplicate, and undoubtedly you have copies of these on file for any taxpayer that should desire to peruse the same.

We might also further state that during our period of association with your city employees, we have always met with the greatest courtesy and assistance, and we are also pleased to state that during the entire period of our examination we have found the books, with a few minor exceptions which we have noted in our reports, in a very excellent condition.

Without further comment, we remain,

Very respectfully yours,

SKIDDING AUTO KILLS MAN AS HE ALIGHTS FROM CAR

Miss Wanda Gordon, of Portland, Oregon, who has been residing at the auto camp in Daly City, had a shocking experience last Tuesday evening about 5 P. M., while returniing from San Francisco.

Her Ford coupe skidded and struck Francis Rogers, an elderly man, as he alighted from a street car at Farragut and Mission streets. Rogers, who was a real estate appraiser, was found to be dead upon the arrival of an ambulance.

Miss Gordan said she swerved her car in an effort to avoid hitting the unfortunate man, but hit him and crashed into a telegraph pole, wrecking her car. She said, "There was no earthly way of avoiding the accident." Miss Gordon was placed under arrest, and Police Judge Sylvain Lazarus held her for trial on April 15.

RACING BEGINS AT TANFORAN TRACK

Nearly 500 of the finest horses that have ever made history on the American turf have been stabled at the beautiful race course at Tanforan in preparation for the 13-day racing meet which opens there tomorrow (Saturday) with races chartered that will bring thrills even to the heart of a veteran turfman. Such intefnationally known mounts as Golden Prince, Alexander Pantages, Seth's Hope, Victorian and many others are scheduled for performances during the San Bruno meeting.

The Pacific Coast Breeders' Association, composed of many of the Pacific Coast's most prominent men and women, is sponsoring the racing session, and members have brought their stables from many points for the Tanforan meeting. A feature of the 13-day program will be the debut of Peter B. Kyne, internationally known writer and novelist, as a turfman. Kyne has brought his stables from Agua Caliente, where he had them in training. This is the first time his horses have ever appeared on the track.

Men who have won and maintained international reputations in the racing world have been chosen as officials for the Tanforan meeting, and under the personal direction of these experts the contests will be conducted daily on a plane that will rival the cleanest operated race tracks in America. Officials selected to manage the meet are widely known among the turf fraternity of the Pacific Coast, and their integrity has become an institution in the racing world.

They include:

Stewards—Joseph A. Murphy and Floyd McKenney.

Placing judges—W. R. Norvell, J. S. Rothert and Peter Clark.

Starter—Harry Morrissey.

Racing secretary—W. R. Norvell.

Track physician—Dr. F. H. Smith.

Official veterinarian — Dr. C. Masoero.

Official timer—James McDonnell.

Nearly all of the fastest horses entered in the Agua Caliente races have been shipped to Tanforan and are now awaiting their turn at the post in stalls at the San Bruno track. All during the past week carload after carload of thoroughbreds have been arriving from the Mexican resort and places along the Pacific Coast. Hundreds of people have gathered daily at Tanforan to inspect these mounts, and have left displaying keen interest in the proposed racing card for the meeting.

All plans and arrangements for the 13-day program have been completed and the San Bruno city council, in regular session, granted the breeders' association a permit for the races. Ample parking space has been provided for those expecting to attend in their own cars and special arrangements have been made with the Southern Pacific and other transportation companies for extra service during the meeting.

The races will be run week days only, Sunday being reserved for visitors to inspect the track and stables and the racing plant in general. No minors will be admitted to the meeting, and the general admission fee will be a dollar and a half.

Indications are that the meeting will record the largest attendance of any ever held in the west.

OUR VETERANS' EXEMPTIONS EXCEED HUNDRED MILLION

War veterans in California were relieved of payment of taxes in 1929 on property valued at $102,223,959. This is revealed from statistics just compiled by the State Board of Equalization, to whom reports have been made by the county assessors.

Contrasting the valuation of exempt property in 1929 over 1928, the equalization board has found the increase to be 7.61 per cent. In 1928 the total of $94,992,007 was 13.22 per cent more than the corresponding figure of $83,885,259 for 1927.

Indicating that veterans as a class are becoming more prosperous, the board reports that the number allowed exemptions has not grown as rapidly as the value of the property exempted. In 1929, 168,080 veterans were listed for exemption, marking an increase of 5.86 per cent over 158,764 exempted in 1928.

Exemptions are allowed under a constitutional amendment adopted in 1911. This provides that veterans who saw actual service during time of war, who do not own property of the value of $5,000 or more, and whose wives do not own that much property, are to be exempt from taxes on their holdings up to the amount of $1,000.

To secure these exemptions they must apply to the county assessor between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in April of each year. If claims are not filed during that period, exemption is deemed waived, according to law.

PERSHING P. T. A. HAS INTERESTING SESSION

The regular monthly meeting of the General Pershing P. T. A. was held Tuesday, April 1, at the school house. The President, Mrs. Lillian Fletcher, was in charge. After the usual routine business several interesting discussions were held and reports of the various committees were listened to. Mrs. Boyle gave a particularly interesting report on the Well Baby clinic, which was recently established in Daly City. All the members were glad to know how much had been done in such a short time. It is hoped all mothers with children of pre-school age will take advantage of the clinic.

Chief of Police Jack Doyle was kind enough to give a few minutes of his valuable time to the members in discussing "Safety" for the school children. He particularly stressed the point of instructing the children how necessary it is to be cautious at street crossings. Both mothers and teachers should impress upon the minds of the children how imperative it is to stop and look before crossing streets. General Pershing school has been very fortunate in the matter of accidents, and we hope that it will continue to be so. Officer Doyle said that he would do everything he could to co-operate with the P. T. A. to safeguard the children. The members were glad he could be present at their meeting as they know how willing he is to help with the children.

The members voted to give the children a theatre party before Easter and it is hoped all will assist in making this a memorable affair for the kiddies.

It was decided to hold a special meeting next Tuesday, April 8, for the purpose of electing officers.

In appreciation of the faithful and untiring efforts of the President, Mrs. Fletcher, the members voted to send her to the state convention to be held this year at Riverside. It is an honor well deserved by one who has so ceaselessly worked to make the General Pershing P. T. A. a "superior" organization.

After the meeing was adjourned refreshments were enjoyed by the thirty-five members and visitors present.

The wilds of Africa were less dangerous for Thomas A. Barns than the streets of his home city. After many years of big game hunting in the dark continent without a mishap he was critically injured when a taxicab and a street car collided in Chicago.

MERCHANTS LOSE BY CLOSE MARGIN

Bunching their hits to take an early lead that was never passed, the O'Brien, Sportono & Mitchell nine defeated the Daly City Merchants, 4 to 3, on the Jefferson high school diamond, last Sunday.

The local nine faced a smart pitcher in Gene Belgau. The Poultrymen's twirler was in trouble at the beginning of every inning, but he managed to wiggle out in superb style. Gene allowed eleven hits, one base on balls, hit one batter and struck out seven.

Dick Randall was under pressure continually. His exhibition after the first three innings was remarkable, considering this disadvantage. The Marchants' pitcher held the opposition to niine hits, whiffed four men and walked two.

Rodgers, right fielder, led the visitors' batting attack with three two-base swats in four times at bat, while Roarke, left field, garnered the longest hit of the day, a home run. Ahrens and Arnold were the Merchants' most consistent hitters, each collecting two in three times up.

The Merchants will appear on the Jefferson diamond next Sunday in new suits. The fast De Martini nine will be the opponents. Manager Ed Cavagnaro says: "We are going to give the fans some real baseball. The weak teams are not going to play the Merchants if it can be prevented."

GOING CAMPING THIS SUMMER?

Vacationists who are looking forward to a camping trip this summer in the mountains of California will find much of interest in the new map-folder entitled "National Forests of California," according to U. S. Service officials. This folder shows all the main road and highways of the state and lists improved free camp grounds and scenic and recreation areas. Rules which must be observed by national forest visitors are also listed. These include the securing of a camp fire permit, the carrying of an axe and a shovel suitable for fire fighting purposes, and no smoking in the forest during the fire season except in camps, at places of habitation and in special posted areas.

Among the outstanding scenic attractions located in the national forests of California are Mt. Shasta (14,161 feet) on the Shasta National Forest, the Marble Mountain region of the Klamath National Forest, Lake Tahoe in the Tahoe and Eldorado National Forests, Kings River Canyon in the Sierra, Sequoia and Inyo National Forests, Mt. Whitney (14,496 feet) on the boundary line between the Inyo National Forest and Sequoia National Park, Lake Arrowhead in the San Bernadino National Forest and the Laguna Recreation Area in the Cleveland National Forest.

The map folder also describes the different forest regions of the state and the commercial resources of the national forests, such as water, timber and forage, which are so important to the economic progress of California.

More than 200,000 cattle and horses, and 550,000 sheep and goats are said to graze annually on national forest ranges; the sale of mature Government timber results in an annual cut of over 290 million feet of lumber, and hydro-electric plants develop 1,500,000 horsepower from streams rising in the national forests. The total revenue from all sources of the national forests is approximately $1,400,0000 each year. Of this amount, 25 per cent is returned, in lieu of taxes, to the counties in which the national forests are located, for schools and roads. An additional 10 per cent of the receipts is spent by the Forest Service in road and trail construction within the national forests. The Forest Service has constructed 1,647 miles of roads and 3,028 miles of trails within and adjacent to the national forests, with a total expenditure to 1929, for the construction and maintenance of existing roads and trails, of $11,300,000.

National forest visitors are cautioned about the danger from forest fires and their serious results are explained by reference to a five-year record of fires in the national forests of the state. The total loss from forest fires from 1924 to 1929 is estimated to be $5,800,000.

Copies of the "National Forests of California" map folder may be secured on request from forest supervisors located in Yreka, Mt. Shasta, Bishop, Weaverville, Willows, Alturas, Susanville, Quincy, Nevada City, Placerville, Sonora, North Fork, Porterville, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, San Bernardino and San Diego, and Minden, Nevada, and from the U. S. Forest Service, San Francisco.

FOREST HIGHWAY AND FEDERAL AID MEASURE

Construction of county and intercommunity roads in national forest areas of California will be given additional impetus by the forest highway appropriation measure which is now assured of passage at this session of Congress, according to the California State Automobile Association, which has supported amendment of this bill to meet conditions in this state.

California will have an additional $800,000 a year available for such roads under this bill, known as the Colton Forest Authorization Bill, which has just been recommended for passage by the House Committee on Roads, according to word received by the Association Highways Bureau.

The Federal Aid Highway measure, under which California's allotment of such funds is increased from $2,500,000 a year to $4,100,000, has also been given approval tantamount to passage. Following approval in conference committee it was passed by the House and is assured of passage by the Senate this week, according to word received by the Association Highways Bureau.

The forest highways measure increases the Congressional appropriation for apportionment to states from $7,500,000 a year to $12,500,000, which means California's allotment will be increased from $1,100,000 to $1,900,000.

When first introduced, this measure provided that the forest highway money should be concentrated on the Federal Aid System until that system was completed in its entirety. The California State Automobile Association contended that this requirement was unfair to many sections of the West, particularly to California. It pointed out that if this requirement was enacted into law it would mean that for at least thirteen years no forest highway money would be available for county or inter-community roads in the national forest areas.

It was only after a strenuous endeavor on the part of the Automobile Association that it succeeded in having a substitute bill introduced which eliminated this requirement on all except the increased part of the appropriation, and then to apply only where the state was unable to otherwise finance sections of the Federal Aid System traversing the forest areas which, of course, California can do with its gas tax money.

The bill should be of tremendous benefit to those counties having forest areas. As originally introduced it would have taken every cent away from forest highways not on the Federal Aid System until the Federal Aid System was completed in its entirety.

CAMPAIGN AIMED AT "CUTTING IN"

"Cutting in is a Driving Sin."

This is the slogan for the month of April in the California Committee on Public Safety campaign against dangerous driving practices, and, with the co-operation of state and local traffic law enforcement officials, the committee during the month will conduct a combined educational and enforcement drive on safety in passing.

At the same time the California highway patrol this month is conducting a brake-testing campaign, and Superintendent Eugene W. Biscailuz of the patrol has instructed all state traffic officers, after a reasonable courtesy period during which motorists will be warned, to begin issuance of citations for motorists driving with defective brakes.

The campaign against cutting in and other law violations when passing other vehicles is part of the California Committee on Public Safety's all-year educational and enforcement program for reduction of the traffic accident toll in this state. For the first ten days of April, motorists will be educated on the provisions of the law in this connection through the press, radio stations, service clubs and theatres. Thereafter, through the California highway patrol and police departments of major cities, strict enforcement will be made effective.

Co-operating with the committee, the legal department of the California State Automobile Association, for the benefit of motorists, summarizes the law on passing as follows:

Any vehicle overtaking another vehicle preceeding in the same directions shall pass at least two feet to the left thereof, and shall not again be driven to the right side of the highway until reasonably clear of such overtaken vehicle.

The driver of an overtaking motor vehicle outside of a business or residence district shall give audible warning with his bell, gong, or other warning device before passing or attempting to pass a vehicle proceeding in the same direction.

The driver of any vehicle shall not drive the same so as to pass or overtake any other vehicle going in the same direction at any intersection of public highways unless directed so to do by a traffic officer or police officer nor upon a curve where the driver's view along the highway is obstructed within a distance of one hundred and fifty feet.

SANTA CLARA'S MISSION PLAY PRESENTED APRIL 5 AND 6

A series of colorful scenes will be presented in picturesque manner in the Mission Play of Santa Clara, at the University Auditorium on Saturday evening, April 5, and Sunday afternoon, April 6, which shows the early Mission days in the Santa Clara valley.

The entire play is cast about the historic Mission of Santa Clara during 1846, the date of the American invasion. Characters portrayed are ones that actually existed during the days of the Dons, and the production is a splendid spectacle of Spanish life surrounding that historic spot.

MERCHANTS HOLD LIVELY MEETING

There was another large and enthusiastic meeting of the Daly City Merchants' Association held at the City Hall last Wednesday night.

Considerable routine work was accomplished, after which speaking was in order, and all present were given the opportunity to express themselves for the good of the order. Many good suggestions were made, among them being that definite information as to the widening of Mission street should be ascertained, as many of our merchants and business men are waiting anxiously to know just where to place buildings which they intend to build, and they can not take chances on having the street widened after their buildings are erected. It was, therefore, decided to make an effort to get positive facts, in this regard, if possible.

It was decided to have a basket picnic in the early part of June, and a committee was appointed, consisting of Dr. F. P. Callsen, Peter Pavlos and S. Plansky, to look after the matter.

Mr. Carl E. Newman, manager of the Daly City branch of the Bank of Italy, was present and assured the Merchants of his hearty co-operation and assistance in the good work they are doing.

A letter was read from Mr. Henry Sundermann, of the finance committee of the Daly City Council, and also a letter from Wenzelburger & Vickey, auditors and accountants, regarding the financial condition of Daly City, showing the excellent condition of Daly City's finances and bookkeeping, and announcing that an audit is regularly made each year.

The next meeting of the Daly City Merchants' Association will be held on Wednesday evening, May 7.

HELP THE CENSUS MAN

Last Wednesday, after weeks of preparation, not only by the government but by all those interested in the taking of the census, the six enumerators of Daly City started out on their work, which will fix the status and the population of Daly City for the next ten years, as the census is taken only every ten years. The count this year will be recognized as the population of this city, and it behooves every one in this city to see that his name is listed.

Give these enumerators the benefit of your co-operation, for their task is no light one, and they do not wish to miss anyone. They have a very limited time in which to complete this work, as the count ends April 15. If you wish to see Daly City's population correctly tabulated, give the information sought, and have it ready when the census takers call.

The men and women engaged in this work have taken an oath to keep any and all information received by them as confidential.

The enumerators chosen for our district are Mrs. Charles McKee, Mrs. R. F. Stockton, Mrs. L. Riddell, Mrs. A. Braumoeller, Mrs. D. Campbell and Charles Shoupe.

Europe talks of a tariff holiday. It will be a relief when our Congress takes one.

Counterfeit $1,000 bank notes are said to be in circulation. We have escaped being stung so far.

FIRE PREVENTION CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN

"A clean city is a healthy, happy and safe city." A clean-up campaign should be held as early as possible in the spring. Ordinarily, cities are judged by their general appearances. While many other features should be considered, such as health, water supply, death rate, fire and police protection, and rate of taxation, yet the majority are governed in their likes and dislikes by their first impressions. Every day of the year thousands are passing in and out through the gateway of Daly City. They appraise our city and judge its future by what they have seen. Far too frequently they take casual, short views, and, therefore, have dwarfed judgment. Industrial growth is largely increased or decreased by public opinion. General appearances count. Every housekeeper has an annual spring housecleaning time. Why not a city clean-up campaign?

No estimate can be made of the saving of life, health and property directly responsible to an annual clean-up campaign. It removes disease breeders which might later cause pestilence, fire dangers which might result in conflagration, and other hazards which so frequently injure future municipal development. It also presents a clean, tidy and wholesome outlook for the entire community. Money spent on a clean-up campaign is real municipal and industrial advertising. The more inviting we make our city the more people will come to enjoy it. So clean up rubbish and save a fire, clean up refuse and save a life work for a healthier, happier and more beautiful city.—By V. Savelly, Daly City Fire Prevention Committee of Mateo County Firemen's Association.

NEW FORD SEDAN MEETS WITH A FREAK ACCIDENT

Last Sunday about 2 P. M. a new Ford sedan, which had been driven but 54 miles, registered under the name of Thos. F. Allen, met with a freak accident. The driver, evidently a beginner, was practicing on Bellevue avenue, near Whittier, where the pavement ends at Whittier. The driver turned the car, and thought he had his foot on the brake when he had it on the gas throttle. The Ford shot forward and up across the sidewalk and wedged itself between the cypress trees on the Muessdorffer property. There is quite a drop from the sidewalk to these trees, so the Ford was very badly damaged, the damage including a smashed front and rear fender, as well as the door, windows and top being damaged. It took quite a bit of engineering to get the car back on the road by the man in charge of a tow car. The driver of the Ford was not injured, but was pretty well shaken up.

OF INTEREST TO MOTHERS

This item is of special interest to the mothers who have children in attendance at the General Prshing School.

It is the earnest desire of the President that every member of General Pershing P. T. A. make an endeavor to be present at a very special meeting to be held at the school, Tuesday, April 8, at 2 P. M., to complete our corps of officers for the coming year and to appoint delegates to the county convention at San Mateo, and to make final arrangement for our children's Easter party, which will be a theatre party and ice cream treat to all the children of the school, which means every mother's son of them, so it is up to all of us to take an active interest and help.

If by chance you are not a member come anyway; evidence your desire to be of assistance to the General Pershing School.

There will be as much argument over the Literary Digest's prohibition straw vote as over prohibition itself.

LIFE LARGE AND SMALL

Some interesting reflections on the size of living things were made by the noted scientist, Julian S. Huxley, in a recent article. Many of the facts which he relates are not only interesting, but surprising.

When we speak of living things, in the broad sense, we must include the vegetable kingdom, so the largest living things are to be found among the big trees of California. These, incidentally, are also the oldest, with an age of around 5,000 years.

These trees, some weighing nearly 1,000 tons, are massive indeed when compared with the largest animal, the whale, whose weight seldom reaches more than 100 tons. Yet a large elephant could maneuver comfortably inside a whale's skin.

Most wonderful is what we find among the smaller orders of life. We can see a flea, though with difficulty catch him, yet 80,000 would weigh scarcely one ounce.

Some of the insects which are hardly visible to the naked eye are fitted out with "compound eyes, a nice nervous system, three pairs of jaws and three pairs of legs, veined wings and striped muscles." Tiny birds weighing only 10 grams, or about as much as 10 large ants, fly thousands of miles during their migrations. And ants, by the way, are the strongest living things in proportion to their size.

Man is about half-way in the scale between large and small mammals, and when grown he contains about a hundred million million cells. He requires all his brain as well as his strength to cope with the great animals on one side and the insects on the other. And then there are the microbes to worry about.

A New York man was sent to prison for stealing an accordion. But the neighbors of the owner would probably give the thief a vote of thanks.

Celebrates Second Anniversary

Little Helen Smith celebrated her second birthday with a party given in her honor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, of Miriam street, last Monday. The table was beautifully decorated with a fancy paper centerpiece, to which streamers of pink and green were attached from the chandelier. The children had fancy paper hats and favors to carry out this color scheme. About twenty-five little guests were served delicious refreshments. After an afternoon of playing games the little guests returned to their homes, tired but happy.

PARAMOUNT PROBLEMS

What are the most important problems before the American people today?

In order to get an answer to this question the National Economic League, composed of leaders in all walks of life and holding all shades of political, religious and economic opinion, recently made a poll of its national council.

Several thousand preferential ballots were returned, with administration of justice leading in importance with 2,209 votes; prohibition being second with 2,068.

Crime, farm relief, taxation and various subjects having to do with foreign relations stood high in the list, while education, unemployment, child welfare and the tariff were mentioned by a considerable number.

Among the subjects submitted which were evidently considered of comparatively little importance by the League council were public utilities, national defense, railroads, lobbying and radio.

As understood by those who voted, administration of justice refers to the procedure of our courts, rather than related subjects such as crime and law enforcement. The vote was a protest against the cumbersome, antiquated and tedious methods of bringing a case to a conclusion.

Again, the importance attached to prohibition was not an indication of whether those voting were wet or dry, but merely their expression that something should be done about it—stricter enforcement, modification or repeal.

But whatever its real relative importance may be, it can hardly be denied that prohibition is the most discussed national problem just now. It is likewise giving a good many politicians some uneasy moments.

Are Siamese twins one or two persons? Mary and Margaret Gibbs, joined together since birth, are wondering. A railroad company carried them from Chicago to New York on one ticket, but a steamship line charged them two fares for transportation abroad.

Bankers advise us to pay by check. But it's sometimes safer to receive in cash.

A STRAY PUP'S FRIEND

What does a stray pup amount to, anyway? What does it matter if a helpless animal is abused and tortured to make sport for a gang of thoughtless boys? Who would care?

We have read a pleasing story of one small boy who cared, and thereby made a friend who did not forget.

Some years ago a kindly man named Jacob Siler, while walking along the Mississippi river bank near St. Louis came upon a group of boys who were amusing themselves by throwing a stray pup into the river time after time in spite of the protests of one small companion. Finally the pup's defender engaged the others in fistic combat to save the wretched animal from being drowned.

Just then Mr. Siler approached and commended the plucky lad, whose name was Otto Schmidt. As a result a lifelong friendship between the two began. Some time ago Siler died and left $7,500 to the boy, now a man, whose humane instincts and courage had saved the poor pup and won the admiration of a casual witness of his act.

Those who befriend unfortunate animals do not always receive material rewards such as came to Otto Schmidt, but they may have the reward of an approving conscience, which should be recompense enough.

Rentals to private owners for space occupied by government departments in Washington amount to more than a million dollars a year.

MEMORANDUM.

The first publication of this Summons was made in the Daly City Record newspaper on the 7th day of February, 1930.

The following persons are said to claim an interest in, or lien upon, said property adverse to plaintiff:

The City of Daly City, Daly City, California.

City of San Bruno, San Bruno, California.

City of South San Francisco, South San Francisco, San Mateo County, California.

Feb. 7 - April 11, 1930.

BIG LIFE POLICIES

According to a recent compilation by the Spectator, the most heavily insured person in the world is Pierre S. DuPont, of Wilmington, Del., whose life insurance policies total seven million dollars. And policies amounting to five million or more are held by nine other persons.

Holders of policies of one million or more number 323. In this class are Will Rogers, Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Constance and Norma Talmadge, who each carry an even million.

Many wealthy men carry large policies for the protection of their business enterprises. The largest amount ever paid on the death of a single individual is said to be $5,823,450 carried by the late Rodman Wanamaker, who was long known as the most heavily insured person, several large endowment policies having matured during his lifetime.

Policy holders and beneficiaries in the United States and Canada received more than two billion dollars from life insurance companies during 1928, the last year for which figueres are available.

Every person with dependents should carry life insurance. Not to do so is an injustice to those left behind.

The American Red Cross expended more than fifteen million dollars for relief and other activities during the last fiscal year.

Do You Know—

COMMUNITIES as "centers of living" are considered so important that scientific research has been directed toward towns and cities to find out why some grow and prosper while others decline? It has been definitely determined that their development or decline takes place because of certain definite causes.

THRU THE study of community development it has been discovered that there are some forty major and three hundred minor factors to be found in Our Community. Any one of these, by functioning improperly, may prove a damaging weakness.

FORTUNATELY, however, there are proven cures and preventives for Community weakness and defect — rules for Community health, happiness and prosperity —just as there are rules for individual health, happiness and prosperity.

Do You WANT to Know—

WHAT THESE vital factors are—where we are strong and where we are dangerously weak? Do you want to know how we compare nationally as a "Living Center" with other towns and cities of our class? Do you want to know how we can be a stronger, more prosperous Community?

We are interested in the subject because we realize the individual as well as the collective well-being of the citizens of this center is involved. We are prepared to present a weekly survey on this page. Will you let us have a personal expression of your interest in this campaign for

THE EAGLES NEST

The regular meeting of the Fraternal Order of Eagles was held on Thursday evening.

Brother George Barner was reported as improving. Brother Ray Ottoboni was reported as completely recovered from his recent operation.

The booster committee met at Brother Collins' home on Wednesday and reported that some good times were outlined for the future.

An initiation will be held on May 1, in honor of Mother's Day. Mother's Day was an innovation of the Eagles and has proved to be a nation-wide movement. Get your candidate signed up, as it will be the last initiation of the fiscal year.

The Associated Aeries of San Mateo County will meet in Daly City on Thursday, April 24.

A booster committee meeting of the Associated Aeries will be held in San Mateo next Wednesday evening.

The Aerie went on record as approving the application of the Spanish War Veterans for increased pensions from the government.

Why was the booster committee meeting so interesting?

What became of Brother Schramm?

Who regreted that they could not attend?

Who will miss the next one?

Morale may be described as contented faith and optimistic hope. Every organization should and must have it to reach the goal of their ambition, but there are some Eagles that are trying to destroy it, and they do not realize it. Never attend a meeting, and if they do attend, never say anything for the betterment of Eagledom.

Come to meetings and keep up the morals of yourself and the Aerie as a whole.

EPWORTH LEAGUE TO HOLD RALLY HERE

The San Mateo County Alliance of the Epworth League will hold their quarterly rally at the Daly City Methodist church, Vista Grande and Santa Barbara avenues, on Friday evening, April 4. This will bring together a large group of young Methodist people from all over the county. Dinner will be served at 6:30, for which a charge of 50 cents will be made. The Ladies' Aid of the church will care for this feature for the young people of the local church.

A program instructive and inspirational in character will be given in the auditorium of the church after the dinner. The evening will be concluded with games and other social features.

A banner is awarded the Epworth League in the county sending the largest delegation proportionate to its membership. There is also an award for the most original pep feature in the program. The Daly City League has won the attendance banner at a previous rally, but as host is not eligible on this occasion.

Miss Mabel Whittman is president of the San Mateo County Alliance. Dr. Carl Warner, the pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Burlingame, is counselor. Louis Hunter is the president of the local chapter.

It is expected that the Alilance League officers will be with the Methodist church Sunday, and conduct both the League service at 6:30 P. M. and the evening worship at 7:30.

Sunday school will be at 10 o'clock. Preparations for Easter are much to the fore.

The Crippled Lady of Peribonka

By James Oliver Curwood

WNU Service (©, 1929, Doubleday Doran & Co., Inc.)

STORY FROM THE START

Introducing some of the people of the pretty little French-Canadian village of Peribonka, particularly the Crippled Lady, idol of the simple inhabitants. Paul Kirke is a descendant of a sister of Molly Brant, sister of Joseph Brant, great Indian chief. He has inherited many Indian characteristics. His father is a powerful New York financier. Paul marries Claire Durand, daughter of his father's partner. He is in charge of engineering work near Peribonka. Paul's wife is in Europe. She dislikes the woods. Paul becomes interested in Carla, village teacher. Paul writes his wife to join him. Carla's mother, long an invalid, dies. Claire announces her intention of joining Paul on the Mistassini. She writes a letter of sympathy to Carla.

He could not keep Carla out of his mind. She came to him vividly when he stood in the shadow of the ancient chapel of the Ursulines, at Quebec, where he had seen through the chancel grating the lovely nun whose face and eyes had looked so much like Carla's. In Lower Town he went into the little old church of Notre Dame des Victoires, and he felt as if she were standing at his side. She seemed to be a part of the composure and beauty and age-old enchantment of these quaint and hallowed spots which he loved, as if in some past day her soul had helped to mold and fit their destinies. Here, like himself, Carla could dream, and see ghosts and mystic fabrics of forgotten things where others saw only slow dissolution and ruin of brick and mortar and wood. In her eyes were the deep and slumbering lights which linked the memories of the past with the mysteries of the future—in Claire's the vibrant life of a glorious present. Together, he thought, these two women held the world in their breasts, from its beginning to its end.

He was at the dock an hour ahead of the ship. When it arrived he drew himself back of the waiting people, for he knew that Claire would not be in the rush of disembarking passengers, nor would she be along the rail in the crush that always gathered to wave their greetings to friends and relatives. It surprised him when he found her to be one of the first on the landing walk. As she came down he could see that she was looking for him. She was the same Claire, tall, slim, exquisitely dressed, a woman to be picked out of a thousand. He could always expect Claire like that, a wife any man would be enormously proud to possess. He waved his hat, and she saw him. A swift, beautiful smile passed over her face, and in his eagerness to reach her he made his way a little roughly through the crowd. His heart was jumping. He was meeting her alone—no one but himself to greet her, while always before there had been many. One dream had come true!

When they met he held out his arms. But that was not Claire's way. She was always right, never forgetful of the fitness of things—and gave him her hands. Her fingers closed warmly about his. She raised her lips and kissed him, with the light touch of her mouth which was a part of Claire.

"Dear old Paul!" she said. "At last I'm home!"

* * * * * * *

"This time I am going to stay until you become tired of me and send me home," she told him.

The change in her was inexplicable unless he accepted it as one of sheer sportsmanship. This he did, and was warmed by the thought of what he was bound to give in return for it. Behind her effort it was not difficult for him to see the truth—her struggle against instincts and impulses as deeply inborn as was his own Indian blood in himself. The desire to please him, its sunny cheer and friendliness, was an inspiration to him and strengthened his resolution to twist and bend his life, so that it would fit in with hers. He did not tell her this. The thought of explaining to her that he was about to make a mighty endeavor to cross the gulf which lay between them was embarrassing to him. Claire had said nothing about her own effort. Her actions had shown him the way. This lack of intimacy between them at times made him feel scarcely closer to her than some of the many friends she had. It was a thing which he could not tear down even in moments when some impulse or situation seemed to draw them very close together. He knew that Claire felt it as well as himself. Facing it, smiling at each other, waiting for some force greater than themselves to break the way for them, they said nothing about it. Each was hoping, and struggling, that this thing between them might be triumphed over. But it persisted in spite of them.

Each day he found something new and unexpected in Claire to increase his admiration for her. She became acquainted with the pit. She put on rubber boots and explored its muddy depths with him. She made no discrimination among his friends, and nodded and smiled as pleasantly at a foreman or a laborer as she did at the others on the hill. More puzzling to him than these things was her intimacy with Carla Haldan. After her first few days on the Mistassini they were together much of the time when Carla was not at her work. Even in this Claire joined her now and then, and talked to the children in Carla's classes about the boys and girls in other lands, and came to know their mothers, until she began to fill a little of Carla's place among them.

Carla came to his office again, but always with Claire. She was unlike the Carla who had brought him flowers, so different from her that he was left with a dully painful sense of loss when he was alone and thinking about her, as if someone very dear to him had died, leaving only memories behind. The paradoxical reason for this emotion in him was that Carla appeared to be strangely and forgetfully happy. She was lively and gay, and joined freely in the small social affairs of the camp from which she had always held herself more or less apart. She talked only a little of Peribonka, and the forests, and of the places which he knew she loved, but seemed to hold her heart when listening to Claire's colorful descriptions of interesting places his wife had visited. The two had a real affection for each other. No matter how uncertainty might cloud his judgment in other ways, there could be no doubt about this sentiment of mutual regard which had grown up quickly between them.

One evening Claire said to him:

"It is strange how deeply I care for Carla. There is something about her which drags me out of myself, to her. Yet I am finding it more and more impossible to paint her as I want her, she is so completely changed. Where is the real Carla, Paul? What has happened to her? Do you know?"

Her head was bowed over a bit of lace work in her lap, and she did not look at Paul.

"I have noticed the change in her," he said. "It has happened since you came. I think you have helped to bring her out of the terrible grief which oppressed her after her mother's death."

Claire smiled gently at her husband. For a few moments a contemplative light lay in her eyes, as if she were looking—not at him—but at a child.

"You think she is happier—since I came?"

"There is no doubt of it," he declared.

"But I cannot paint her. And it is because—there is so much unhappiness behind what she is trying to make us see in her face."

In his puzzled silence, she added:

"I am wondering why she tries so hard to make me believe she is happy, Paul."

Before he could answer she began to tell him about her talk to the children in Carla's school that day.

"Creeping Barrage" Idea

Gen. Lord Henry Horne of Stirkoke, England, is the famous artillery commander whose name is associated with the first use of the "creeping barrage." General Horne, however, is said to have given the credit of its invention to Brig. Gen. E. W. Alexander, V. C., at the action at Flers during the World war, on September 15, 1916.

BUILDING NEW UNIT IN BAYSHORE HIGHWAY

A recent issue of the publication "California Highways and Public Works" announces that a new unit in the important Bayshore highway is now under way, a contract having recently been awarded to Frederickson & Watson Construction Company and Frederickson Brothers, covering that portion from Fifth street, San Mateo, to Redwood City, a length of approximately 7.3 miles. A major length of this section lies across the salt marshes along the westerly side of San Francisco Bay. In addition to the installation of drainage structures, this contract is somewhat unique in that a major portion of the northerly part is to be constructed of hard material obtained from the borrow pit in Belmont Terrace. This borrow pit, centrally located, will furnish some 450,000 yards of excavation for the roadbed section. A high elevation is being maintained to provide a roadway above the high tides of the intervening sloughs.

From Belmont Terrace south to Redwood City, a greater portion of the work consists of dredger fill embankment. This portion offers adequate facilities for this type of construction and in view of the desire of the adjacent owners in reclaiming portions of their lands through suction dredge methods, work will be combined in filling the highway area and a portion of the adjacent property.

Great interest in the Peninsula is being centered in this contract of the Bayshore highway, in that the completion will provide an additional highway, as at the present time but one through highway exists between San Mateo and Redwood City. The congestion on this one link has been serious on Sundays and holidays, as is evidenced by the bunching up of traffic during the peak hours immediately south of the city of San Mateo. A recent count at this point revealed an excess of 20,000 cars during a 16-hour period. Once this condition is relieved by the opening of the new unit of the Bayshore highway, traffic will have two completed state highways between San Francisco and Santa Clara points along the bay, not including the Skyline boulevard, which lies along the crest of the hills some distance to the west.

MANY TALKIE HITS AT DALY CITY THEATRE

It looks like a big week for the Daly City Theatre, where they are presenting the latest and best of talking picture plays.

For tomorrow, Conrad Nagel will appear in the Warner Brothers' Vitaphone special "Kid Gloves," a crackling melodrama of gangsters and gang war. Among the featured players associated with Mr. Nagel will be found Lois Wilson and Edna Murphy. On the same bill Ken Maynard will appear in the First National Western story, "The California Mail," a hard riding story of the old West. There will be a comedy and News Reel on the same bill.

For Sunday, playing a continuous show from 2 P. M., the Daly City will offer Lon Chaney in his first sound production from the Metro Golwyn Mayer studies, called "Thunder." It is an all thrill story with a dazzling list of featured players headed by Phyllis Haver and James Murray. On the same bill there will be a Mickey comedy and a galaxy of delightful short subjects.

Monday night will bring Eddie's Advershow to the Daly City Theatre, along with the Paramount talking production, "Half Way to Heaven," with Buddy Rogers, Jean Arthur and Paul Lukas in the leading roles. The second feature, "Riders of the Storm," will star Yakima Canutt and a host of western feature players.

Marion Davies with Lawrence Gray in "Marianne" will be the attraction for Tuesday and Wednesday, together with a Laurel and Hardy talking comedy called "The Hoose Gow."

Erich Von Stroheim, with Betty Compson, will appear Thursday and Friday in one of the most spectacular talking attractions yet to reach the screen. Von Stroheim's "Great Garbo" is one of the most thrilling characterizations of the talking screen and promises to tax the Daly City Theatre to capacity. In the cast of players will be found Donald Douglas, Margie Babe Kene and a singing and dancing chorus of 500 voices, accompanied by a symphony orchestra of 125 pieces. Many of the scenes are produced in technicolor. The picture play is a Western Electric recording and was personally supervised by James Cruze. On this bill will also be shown Edward Everett Horton in "Trusting Wives," a bouncing ball novelty and the News Reel.

Remember, all the talkie hits play Daly City first.
